The Chinese Bill Still Holds the Boards in the Senate.

State's Rights Cropping out—Senator Edmunds Declines the Judicial Exam—The Petitions.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, March 7.—At the conclusion of Edmunds' remarks, Platt, (Conn.) expressed the desire to make a speech on the bill, but said he was not well enough to speak to-day. A motion was then made for an executive session. The California Senators endeavored to secure an agreement to vote upon the bill at some fixed hour to-morrow, but failing to obtain unanimous consent gave notice they will ask the Senate to set the bill out to-morrow. The Senate then at 4 o'clock went into executive session.

THE CHINESE BILL IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Senate resumed the consideration of the Chinese bill. Miller, Farley and Fairbank up to the Clerk's desk and had read the great number of telegrams received by them giving accounts of anti-Chinese mass meetings held throughout the Pacific Coast last Saturday. Dawes then took the floor and began a speech against the bill.

STATES RIGHTS AGAIN.

Speaking on the Chinese question, George of Mississippi argued in effect that the people of the Pacific Coast had the right to settle the question of Chinese immigration to suit themselves, and asked the same privilege for the South with regard to negro suffrage.

RECOMMEND EADS' BILL.

Vest, from the Committee on Commerce, yesterday reported to the Senate the Eads bill, accompanied by a report from the committee recommending its passage.

DECLINED WITH THANKS.

A press reporter has ascertained positively that the Supreme Judgeship was tendered to Senator Edmunds and declined.

REPORTING TO THE SENATE.

Miller, of California, called attention to the recent popular demonstration in California and Nevada in behalf of the Chinese bill. He forwarded to the Clerk's desk and had read dispatches from mass meetings, the largest, he said, ever held in California at San Francisco, Stockton, Los Angeles, Santa Cruz, Nevada City, Sonoma and various other points, reciting their proceedings and the resolutions they adopted in advocacy of the bill. Farley said he had also received a number of dispatches of similar import from meetings at Sacramento, Oakland and elsewhere. Fair had received a dispatch from the Governor of Nevada, dated March 4, stating that mass meetings favoring restriction were then in progress in all the prominent towns of the State. All were unanimously in favor of the bill.

MEN-OF-WARS-MEN VISIT CHILI.

Rear-Admiral Balch, in a communication dated at Valparaiso, Chili, February 4th, reports that he called on President Santa Maria, accompanied by Captains Belknap and McCann and personal staff, and was very cordially received. The President returned the visit the next day, accompanied by several members of his cabinet and high officials of the army and navy. He was received on board the flagship with the honors due on such an occasion, the yards being manned and national salutes fired by the Pensacola, Alaska and Lackawana on his arrival on board and upon his departure. The President expressed warm friendship for the United States upon the part of Chili on such terms as to cause a like response on Admiral Balch's part as to the continued amity felt by our people for Chili. Admiral Balch states his belief that the visit of the naval vessels of the United States to Valparaiso has done much to allay the ill feeling lately existing towards the United States by the people of Chili.

THE FLOODS.

A Sorry Condition of Affairs in the South.

MEMPHIS, March 7.—Supplies were sent yesterday afternoon to points on both sides of the river between here and Greenville, Miss. Every day brings intelligence of widespread suffering and destitute condition of the people within the inundated regions. The levee in front of Helena, Ark., is still intact, but the backwater is encroaching upon the business portion of the city. The levees between Vicksburg and Helena are covered with stock in a starving condition. Several rafts, with whole families aboard, have been seen floating down the stream. The situation has become desperate in some localities and now it is only a question of provisions or early starvation to both human beings and stock.

THE SITUATION AT HELENA.

HELENA, Ark., March 6.—The situation to-night is alarming in the extreme. The levee broke above the city last night. Water is kept off from the city by the cross levee at Walker street. The merchants are preparing for a general overflow. Reports from below continue of the most distressing character. Two new breaks occurred to-day, and much more damage is reported.

AN APPEAL TO PREVENT STARVATION.

MEMPHIS, March 7th.—A telegram sent this morning to Senators Harris and Jackson and Congressman Moore at Washington says that the suffering brought to our notice by the inhabitants of the counties in Tennessee bordering on the Mississippi, occasioned by the overflow, calls loudly for assistance from the government. What Memphis has done or can do will be inadequate. We urge you to obtain authority to have rations purchased here for immediate distribution in order to save persons from actual starvation. Some three to five thousand are in absolute need and must be helped immediately. (Signed)

President Cotton Exchange.

President Taxing District, and others.

AN APPALLING CONDITION.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 7.—The Picayune's Greenville, Miss., special says: The backwater is still rising. It is now from six inches to a foot higher than at any previous overflow since the country was first settled. There will be very little land above water from the river front to the hills beyond the Yazoo river. Greenville is secure from any possible overflow. Refugees from the overflowed plantations are congregating here, and our resources to feed and shelter them will be severely taxed. In Bolivar county there are very few plantations with even a strip of land above water. The loss of stock there is almost total. The levees are thronged with negroes and stock, whose condition is most deplorable. As its extent becomes known this calamity begins to appal everybody. A tax sufficient to rebuild the levees above would be almost insupportable, but that is only one item. The laborers have lost their stock and moveables, and are in a panic-stricken and demoralized condition. The despondency of the planters and merchant is deepening. At first this blow was regarded as a disaster involving only losses and hard times; now it is assuming graver and greater proportions. The most thoughtful as well as the most sanguine look upon it as a disaster greater than has ever befallen the bottom country. Your correspondent does not believe that confidence or hope can be restored without national help to rebuild the levees.

Treaty Between Chili and Peru.

NEW YORK, March 7.—South American advices say that Trescott and the Chilean Minister have reached an agreeable understanding. The protocol drawn up as the basis of a treaty between Chili and Peru recognizes the cession of territory but leaves the subject of indemnity in abeyance.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Associated Press Dispatches.]

The Chosen Friends' Trouble.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—E. Kennedy, Supreme Secretary of the order of Chosen Friends, residing in Illinois, was arrested on charges of libel preferred by the officers of the seceding branch of that order in this State, based on the publications in his paper, the "Banner of Chosen Friends." It is said that Kennedy was not privy to the publication of the article, and that the arrests are made with a view to influencing the civil suits brought by him here against the officers of the seceding branch of the society.

AN EMBELLERER ARRESTED.

Charles W. Fonda was arrested for embezzlement while a bank clerk at Constantine, Michigan.

MINING INCORPORATION.

The Lester Mining Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $100,000,000 to mine in Arizona. The Directors are Herman Claude, L. Smith, Simon Silverberg, H. W. Ince and Sam Hart.

Found Dead.

MERCED, Cal., March 7.—Frank Cover was found dead at his residence in Plainsburg last night, a little before midnight. The circumstances as related by persons from there this morning are that Cover and his wife were frequently heard quarreling and fighting, until about eleven o'clock last evening, and but little attention was paid to it by the neighbors, as such scenes have been of frequent occurrence for years, until the report of a gun was heard, when some of the neighbors repaired to the house, and on entering found the unfortunate man on the floor in the agonies of death with a shot-gun wound in the region of his stomach. Mrs. Cover was found in a barn where she said she had gone to take refuge from her husband.

Incest and Murder.

WOODLAND, March 7.—H. L. Patterson, a German farmer, was arrested on charges of incest and murder. His sister, Lena, his partner in guilt, was also arrested. Lena gave birth to a child a short time ago, with the murder of which both were charged. They deny their guilt, claiming the child died a natural death, and was buried privately to avoid scandal.

Murder at Willows.

WILLOWS, Cal., March 7.—To-night at 8:30 Patey Gallagher, a noted character, was shot and instantly killed by Wm. Kent. The affray occurred at Price's Hotel. Four shots were fired by Kent, three taking effect in Gallagher's body, any one of which would have proved fatal. Under Gallagher was found an eight-inch butcher knife. Kent surrendered himself. The cause of the trouble is unknown.

Striking Miners.

EUREKA, Nov. March 7.—Three men headed by one Sam Reynolds, representing themselves as a committee from the miners, waited upon Manager Probert, of the Richmond mine, this afternoon, and informed him that unless he acceded to their demands and returned to the old tribute prices he would be obliged to leave camp to-morrow. Probert refused to make any concession when the miners used abusive language, and it is alleged that Reynolds drew a pistol to shoot the manager, but his companions wrested it from his hand. The committee finally withdrew. A special meeting of the miners Union will be held on Ruby Hill to-night to consider the question. All miners are called upon to attend. It has leaked out within the last few days that six hundred and thirty sacks of ore have been stolen from the Albion, taken through the Richmond mine and dumped into the Eureka Consolidated. Some of the Tributors are charged with the theft.

News has reached Pioche that a fabulously rich gold mine has been struck ten miles below Eldorado Canyon, in Northeastern Arizona. The body of Johnny Lehane was found last Thursday near Palisade. He had been missing for some days. The coyotes had feasted on his body.

TERRITORIAL TALK.

[Sentinel.]

O—stirch your imagination, and tell us how to grow oysters on the Gila. Lost mine cross cut, at 51 feet deep, is in West 16 feet, and makes a good showing of metal.

Operations on the various claims in Ellsworth District continue to show up good quartz in paying quantities. The Black Rock hoisting works will get up steam on Monday next. Bailey shaft is in first-class milling ore and plenty of it.

A party of San Francisco capitalists will arrive in a few days, on their way to Silver District. They have telegraphed to secure private conveyance. Car load after car load of wheat and California wines pass here every day, bound for St. Louis and New Orleans.

The development of Mr. Lang's mine, the Rosa, is still giving satisfactory results, and will without doubt bring in a handsome revenue to the company which proposes to buy it.

Remnant vertical shaft is 110 feet in depth and from indications is nearing the ledge. The ore body in the bonanza shaft is producing the regular amount of high-grade metal.

Opening Their Eyes.

During the past month two agents for San Francisco carriage and wagon repositories here about two weeks apart, and representing houses dealing in a totally different class of goods from each other, remarked to several manufacturers and dealers in this city that the time had come when the San Francisco houses they represented, must open branch establishments here in order to be on an equal footing with Eastern houses shipping via the southern route to Los Angeles. The changes effected by the southern route are beginning to loom up.

Great men often find in the hour of necessity that little reliance is to be placed on those who are most indebted to them.

CHINAMAN, GO!

Again have the people of California resolved to rid themselves of the Chinese, or at least to prevent any future additions to their numbers. Resolving heretofore has ended in resolving only, as the stream of incoming Mongolians has not been checked, and the people have readily absorbed the flood and gladly provided them labor, and we shall watch with interest this last retching of the public stomach to rid itself of its disagreeable contents. We want to see white men supplying our citizens with vegetables, and now who is to come round with the supplies and take the place of the Mongolian with his Spavined mustang and rickety wagon? The generous hearted people have spoken, and we doubt not they will give a warm welcome to the Caucasian with his cabbage and beets. Who will start the wagon? Is there any white or native washerwomen or washermen in town who will essay to relieve our soiled linen of its unseemly stains and odor? If so, let them now come to the front and prepare for business. Certainly the people are now in earnest, and having resolved the fatal third time—which always wins—will now back up their resolutions and turn the stream of their shekels which now enriches the heathen of the Flowery Kingdom, into the washbasins of our own people. Where are the thousands of poor people in San Francisco who are driven from employment—as per Senator Miller? Let them now come to the front prepared to do the work the Chinese are doing, or forever after hold their peace. And let those who mounted the rostrum and freed themselves by resolutions and otherwise of the sympathy they feel for the whites, turn their backs upon their moon-eyed employees and put their own suffering and starving flesh and blood in a position to live. We want to see this new eruption of the patriotic volcano send forth a stream which will burn and accomplish something. Let us go to work and enforce the doctrine and principles we preach, or forever after stop wagging our tongues. A community so intensely anti-Chinese as this votes and professes to be should not have a Mongolian employed in it three months hence. Let us see what the resolutionists will do?

GUNPOWDER.

The discussion on the Chinese exclusion bill raised the question of who invented gunpowder. As it has a most important bearing upon the question of the going of the Chinese (!) all the light possible should be given upon the subject, and we propose to do our share in the elucidation thereof.

One writer of an ancient date says the date and the author of the invention are buried in obscurity. A compilation by one Rishi credits the manufacture of powder to the Chinese as early as the year 80 A. D., but asserts they obtained a knowledge of the modus operandi from India. This is tradition, however. The circumstance of the invention is mentioned to the credit of the Chinese, but according to Sebastian Munster, who wrote in 1544, it is not to the credit of any one. He says: "The villain who brought into the world so mischievous a thing is not worthy that his name should remain in the memory of men!" Some other writer characterizes this explosive as "villainous saltpetre." In the year 1815 Julius Africanus, a Christian writer of Palestine, described the mode of preparing the destructive fluid. In the year 688 Calliculus, of Heliopolis, introduced Greek fire to the Byzantines. In 690 the Arabs used firearms against Mecca, bringing the knowledge of them from India. In 811 King Leo employed firearms, and in 1073 King Solomon of Hungary bombarded Belgrade with cannon. A knowledge of the use of gunpowder must have been quite general after these last dates, as frequent mention is made of it. From the authorities quoted it is evident that gunpowder was invented by the Chinese or their immediate neighbors, and it is immaterial which. We concede it to the Celestials, and wish they would stay at home and continue its manufacture rather than come here to provoke us to use it on them.

DEMOCRATIC PAPERS are very assiduously engaged in getting up a Tilden boom again for 1884, ringing the changes on the cry that he was defrauded of the Presidency by the Republicans. It is said to be Tilden's crowning ambition now to vindicate himself by securing his election to the Presidency and then resigning it. He might commence by resigning the fraudulent pretense that he was ever elected President. Such is the vesperation of which he is most in need.

THE PRESIDENT'S CONTRIBUTION.

The Cleveland Herald's remarks on the memorial services at Washington are what might be called rather terse and pointed, and the allusion to Conkling's nomination rather severe but just. It says:

The air was redolent with the perfume of love and admiration for the honored dead. But through it all stole an offensive odor, pervading the atmosphere with the disgusting effluvia. It came from the tribute placed upon the tomb of the dead President by the hand of his successor and still lying, reeking and nauseating, in the Senate Chamber. The Nation brought fragrant wreaths and sweet-scented blossoms. The President had contributed a rotten egg.

A HARD WORKER.

The Spirit of the Times has this to say of Congressman Page of the Second District:

Page is a hard worker, possessing courage and nerve. But for those qualifications the Chinese Bill in the House would still be under the debris of the house legislation; whereas, now a day's work has been set apart for its consideration. Page deserves well of his constituency for his perseverance and strict attention to his duties.

THE Toledo Blade suggests that if generosity is to be the rule in regard to pensions, a most estimable object of it can be found in the widow of General George H. Thomas, or in the family of General Lyon, or the widow of General Meade, or the family of Admiral Farragut.

MORE CANDIDATES.

Hon. W. H. Parks, of Yuba, is mentioned as a probable candidate for Governor.

Hon. S. G. Nye, of Alameda, is a candidate for Congress in the Second District.

Hon. Jacob C. Neff, of Placer county, formerly State Senator from that county, and at the present time one of the State Prison Directors, is a very prominent candidate for Railroad Commissioner. Mr. Neff is a gentleman of large ability, thoroughly honest, and capable of filling any position to which he may be called, and if nominated would add strength to the ticket.

CAPTAIN EADS sums up his estimate of the cost of his ship railway as follows: Improvement of the Coastwater canal, $3,000,000; improving the lagoon, $4,000,000; ship railway, $60,000,000; terminal improvements, $5,000,000; total, $72,000,000.

Selecting Trees.

The knowing planter prefers a stout stem, short rather than long, and full of buds and spurs from which leaves can issue to shade the stem and help the ascent of sap; which will also yield early first samples of the fruit. If shoots issue from these lower down than he would have the head, he stops the extension by a timely pinch with thumb and finger as growth goes on. If the stem is not erect, that is a minor and temporary drawback, easily remedied by a stake and string rightly applied. It is important that the roots of a tree be fresh, undried by wind and unbitten by frost. If a scrape with a finger-nail shows a white, bright, moist surface under the outer film of brown, the roots are sound. As to the top, the ripe fresh shoots of last year indicate health and vigor. These roots should be shortened in (except the one or three to form the head). Thus we examine the three constituents of the tree—the roots that supply, the stem and its bark that carries, and the leaf-bearing buds that digest.—N. Y. Tribune.

Cure for Freckles.

Freckles are not easily washed out of those who have a florid complexion and are much in the sunshine; but the following washes are not only harmless but very much the best of anything we know. Grate horse-radish fine, let it stand a few hours in buttermilk, then strain and use. Or squeeze the juice of lemon into half a goblet of water and use the same way. Most of the remedies for freckles are poisonous, and cannot be used with safety. Freckles indicate a defective digestion, and consist of deposits of some carbonaceous or fatty matter beneath the scarf skin. The diet should be attended to, and should be of such a nature that the bowels and kidneys will do their duty. Daily bathing, with much friction, should not be neglected, and the Turkish bath should be taken occasionally if it is convenient.—Herald of Health.

Cleaning Glass.

The lenses of spectacles or spy glasses that have become scratched or dimmed by age, may be cleaned with hydrofluoric acid diluted with four or five times its volume of water. The solution should be dropped on a wad of cotton, and thoroughly rubbed on the glass, which should afterward be well washed in clear water. Great care must be exercised in handling this acid, as it acts quickly into the flesh, often producing painful and obstinate sores.

Orange Pie

Grate the peel of one fresh orange; take the juice and pulp of two large oranges; add to them one cup of sugar and the beaten yolks of three eggs; mix one cup of milk with the whites of the eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Bake in puff paste.

A clerk in one of the leading mercantile houses of Los Angeles is about to draw a prize in the lottery of matrimony. He will visit Riverside for the purpose.—Press and Horticulturist. Yes and Thursday will see the job done up Brown, too.

Sick Headache.

A recent medical writer thus accounts for sick headache, from which so many persons suffer. He attributes it to a weak stomach and imperfect digestion, and that the attacks are usually preceded by a greater than ordinary appetite. The stomach is naturally weak, and so long as it is not crowded it works kindly. By-and-by more food is put into it—of more irritating kinds—than it can digest. It ferments, an acid is produced, the acid acts as an irritant upon the coats of the stomach, and this irritation is taken to be a call for food, to satisfy which, more is taken, and all to no purpose; the poor stomach revolts, but with the rest during the headache, and the relief from the vomiting, it recovers its wonted tone. If this be correct, the remedy is a very simple one; abstinence from food for a meal or two, or a denial of the unnatural cravings of the appetite, would seem to be all that is required. Sufferers from this disease should test the value of this advice.

A German Colony.

Mr. Henry Grote, of Hanover, Kansas, has been through the country for the past two weeks looking up a location for a German colony, comprising from thirty to forty families. He is very favorably impressed with the inducements offered, the climate, soil, outlook for the future, etc. Orange presents the most favorable inducements, he thinks, but E. J. Baldwin has offered to sell him 1,250 acres of the Santa Anita Ranch on very advantageous terms. Mr. Grote will go home for his family next Saturday, and return with them shortly.

Mr. Wilshire is now in this city on a tour of observation.

A gentleman residing in this city has just received a letter from Saxony, Germany, informing him that a party of wealthy beet-sugar producers, who are of a family that have been engaged in the business for generations past and understand it thoroughly, will remove to Los Angeles shortly with the intention of carrying on the business in this vicinity on a large scale.

A Chinese Trick.

Yankee ingenuity must give way to the irrepressible "Celestial," judging from the manner in which a newly arrived "John" worked his cards. He was a stranger and friendless, and at his wits' end as to how to keep body and soul together, and after many ineffectual attempts to secure an honest dollar a brilliant idea flashed into his mind. First procuring a duck he peeled off the skin from its web foot, with the aid of manilla pasted it very artistically on the foot of a common backyard chicken, making an excellent imitation of a duck's foot. The ingenious Chinaman then marched along the streets triumphantly displaying the "bird" as a rare curiosity and offering for sale at a fabulous price, until some keen observer happened to detect the difference in color of the two feet, thus exposing the whole thing.

Value of a Telephone.

A very singular accident happened a few days since to the little boy of D. C. Reed. It appears that he was playing in a tree, when he fell, with his neck in a fork, hanging by his head. His cries soon brought his mother to his rescue. But she failed to relieve him, when she attempted to sever one of the limbs with an axe, but the jar caused the little fellow so much pain that he was compelled to desert. She then rushed to the telephone and summoned Mr. Reed, who drove like a Jehu out to his home, over a mile, and released his son from his perilous situation. Mr. and Mrs. Reed are now more convinced than ever that the telephone is a most valuable "institution."—San Diego Union.

A GOOD SHOT.

What Makes Hazard Feel Good when He has been a Hunter.

Hazard is supposed to be a good shot with a shot-gun, but his wife gave him "dead away" yesterday. It will be remembered that the Sportsman's Club started out to San Fernando Valley last Saturday with the full intention of killing four hundred thousand quail. Hazard was to kill more than anybody. But when H. J. Stephens passed the Hazard mansion on his way home Mrs. H. stopped him and asked if he had any quail.

"Oh, yes," said Mr. S. "But why do you ask?" Mr. H. was out with us.

"Yes, I know he was, but you see, poor fellow, when he returns from a big hunt he is always so hungry, I like to give him a good quail dinner. It makes him feel like he had killed a bird or two, you know."

She got the desired game and Hazard had his dinner.

A Woman Fight.

Julia Cathoote was tried before Judge Fisher yesterday afternoon for battery on Mand Unbert a few days ago. She was convicted and will be sentenced to-day at ten o'clock.

South Bound Passengers.

The following passengers passed Fresno last night bound south, and will arrive in Los Angeles this morning at 7:55:

J. G. Sloan, S. J. W. Emmons, Love-locks, Mo; C. E. French, S. A. Mrs. Ietela, Oaker, G. B. Follows, British Columbia; J. C. Hays, Jr., Oakland; C. H. Simpkins, S. F.; J. W. McBride & W. Etna, A. T.; Gertie French, S. A.; D. Fillmore, Los Angeles; A. Perkins, S. F.; W. Lorde, Winnipeg; J. Baker, Toronto; A. O. Tremaine, Yuma; E. R. Todd, Quincy, Ill.

The Woolen Mill.

Henry Cusens, late of Santa Rosa, and previously of Franco, a practical weaver of long experience, has recently been appointed Superintendent of the Woolen Mill by Mr. Coulter. A Times reporter visited the mill yesterday and was very courteously shown around the institution by Mr. Cusens. New and improved machinery has been added recently, which will greatly facilitate and enhance the value of the work done, one loom especially being worthy of more than passing notice—an "improved broad fancy loom," manufactured by George Grompton, Worcester, Mass., one of the latest improved patterns of the kind in the United States. This is designed for the manufacture of of cassimeres, fine flannels, fancy blankets, buggies, etc., and fancy colored stockings yarns. About twenty hands are now steadily employed, and the large amount of work on hand necessitates considerable extra work. Flannels are now being shipped regularly to San Francisco and the East, their excellent quality meeting with universal approbation. The supply of water being sufficient for all present demands, it is the belief that the woolen home manufacturing industry will now receive an unprecedented and it is to be hoped, an uninterrupted season of prosperity.

Santa Ana Zephyrs.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

A strong, cold, drying wind has been blowing ever since yesterday morning, drying up more moisture than the last rain gave us. We hope it will stop before long, or much damage will be done to the young barley crop, especially where the land has not been irrigated. Dr. Bailey informs us that H. Yount, late of Compton and well known in Los Angeles, is at his residence near Santa Ana, very dangerously ill.

We want a good resident Attorney at Santa Ana; Republican preferred.

Almost a Serious Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Berry were the victims of a very queer accident yesterday afternoon. They were driving along the street when they encountered two cows fighting, and as they passed, the cows in their blind rage, ran into the buggy, upsetting it and throwing both occupants violently to the ground, bruising them severely, but fortunately no serious injury resulted.

THEY WON'T GO.

New Four Bloods Drank Calamity Water, and a Good Companion.

When three thousand people meet in a city like Los Angeles and say "The Chinese must go," it would seem that the entire population were of the same mind, but it didn't look that way last Saturday night, four of the prominent young men of the city were seen arm in arm with one of the heathen.

It was this way: The four "utterly up" bloods attended the meeting, heard the eloquent speeches of the sages and law makers of this densely denouncing the almond-eyed celestials, etc., and went off and filled up on calamity water. They soon felt good and wanted to embrace the entire human family, and they did, or at least the heathenish pair of the great family. One of them—the drunkest looking "John" on his way to or from a hen roost; stopped him and began to tell him all about the meeting. John got interested, and was invited into the nearest saloon to take a drink. He did, and took whisky straight. In a few minutes the heathen treated in true American lush style. Somebody else treated and in less than two hours all five were blind drunk, and each one wanted to take the other home. John seemed to understand matters better than did his companions, and finally conducted the poor boys to their various houses. The bloods want the Chinamen to stay if they are all as blooded as this fellow proved himself to be.

A Card of Thanks.

To the many friends who shared in the deep feeling of sympathy with the family of the late Mrs. Lewellen Birby, the heartfelt thanks of the family are hereby offered. REPAIRING MAIN STREET.

A Much Needed Work Being Done—"by One."

For several months past the Times has been kicking against the miserable condition of the streets. The City Council, out of the kindness of their hearts, have taken it up, and a number of men are now at work improving and properly grading Main street at the intersection of Temple. The street car tracks will also be placed on a level with the street, thus placing the streets in a condition for buggies and carriages to pass without taking off a wheel at every turn. When this completed several other improvements will be advocated in the Times.

Two young people of this city will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the Fort street M. E. Church this evening. More particulars to-morrow.

What a Zephyr Said.

And now it is love among the books and stationery. A gentle zephyr floating down the street yesterday seemed to be in a wonderfully good humor with itself and all mankind. It was humming something, and the popular stationer, in to wed Miss back-action audiphone to this auricular appendage it was noticed that the burden of the song was very poetical, but told in plain prose it was that Mr. F. Lamasus, the popular stationer, is to wed Miss Rachel Kremer, one of the best and handsomest girls in the State, on Sunday next.

A SONNAMBULIST.

An Arizona Miner Essays to Take a Walk.

He Finds the Air Too Thin and Springs up on the Sidewalk—"Mela Gott in Himmel, Where Am I?"

Last Monday morning at 4:30 a. m., as J. W. Smith, of Smith's Hotel and Restaurant, was coming down stairs he was startled at seeing a man sitting down in the baggage room, and apparently looking at him with a fixed gaze. Visions of robbers, burglars and cut-throats flitted through Smith's mind with astonishing rapidity, and he involuntarily felt for a pistol which he carries with him of nights for protection. Feeling braver with that in his hand he advanced and ordered the man to get out, repeating the command several times, but with no response.

Finally he pushed a heavy box on to his feet, when the man started up suddenly as if from a trance, attempting to get up but falling back heavily, exclaiming, "Mela Gott in Himmel, where am I?" and then crying like a child. He had no clothing on except a blue flannel shirt, but had attempted to pull on an old pair of pants hanging up in the room. Smith told him to get up and leave, but after making apparently a strong effort he fell back in the chair. Fearing that it was merely a burglar's trick whereby possession could be obtained of the keys when Smith was off his guard, he again ordered him out, but the fellow pleaded his utter inability to walk. Smith then approached him, and to his horror found that his legs were swollen to a fearful size and his body was covered with dirt and filth. Calling one of the boarders, Smith with his assistance took off the pants and bathed the poor fellow's legs in a bucket of water, bandaged them up and gave him a cup of hot coffee, which revived him sufficiently to give the following account of himself: He was an Arizona miner, named Roach Brennan; had just come from the Apache-infested district; had been frightened somewhat by the reports of outrages committed on the whites, and had left the country in consequence. Coming to Los Angeles he hired a room and boarded at the Workingmen's Home on Commercial street, retiring to his bed in the second story the previous night, since which time he recollected nothing. Being very solicitous about some money and clothes left at his boarding house, Smith went there about 6:30 a. m. and found that his story was correct. His roommate adding, however, that about midnight he became very delirious, shouting out that the Apaches were after him, etc., and grasping his blanket, went out of the room. Subsequent developments proved that he had walked to the end of the passage, opened the window, got out on the balcony in the rear and jumped down at least twenty feet to the ground, then climbed a high fence and roamed around considerably, finally walking into Smith's Hotel baggage room, and attempting to pull on the pair of pants—all in his sleep. The poor fellow was taken in a hack to the Workingmen's Home, a physician called, who pronounced one ankle to be dislocated, the other sprained, his legs dangerously injured and the nervous system completely shattered. His money, amounting to about $90, was found all right under the pillow of his bed and his clothes untouched also. He is still at his boarding house in a very critical condition.

THE ANTIMORI CONCERT.

A Fine Performance—The Audience Enraptured.

If many of the citizens of Los Angeles knew how much they missed by being absent from Turnverein Hall last night, there would be many self-condemning consciences this morning. The attraction of the performance was Signora Gemma Tiozzo, who appeared before the Los Angeles audience for the first time. Her magnificent voice was not a complete surprise to us as it had been the fortune of the Times reporter to have attended a rehearsal at which the Signora sang. She has indeed a magnificent voice, of wonderful power, yet has it under the most complete control. Its rich, beautiful contralto, and the limpid notes burst forth with a spontaneity that was refreshing and exhilarating. Her's is a voice which is heard but rarely in Los Angeles. Signor Antimori sang well also, and was handsomely received by the audience.

Madame Marra and Mr. Abernathy in a duet were good, as usual.

In the "Boat Song" Madame Marra and Mile. Peachey were very good.

The two acts of Il Trovatore in costume was as well produced as it would have been on a city stage. The acting of Signor and Signora Tiozzo in the first part was good and the singing was very fine.

In the last act Miss Nonna Ferner sang and acted the inimitable "Miserere" in a way that showed the natural artist and demonstrated her to be a young lady of great talent. Her essaying of the part, undertaken with fear and trembling, resulted in a great success. Mr. Rees is steadily improving in voice. The choruses were very effective, and Dr. Fernandez's deep bass voice rolled forth from the wings grandly. The concert was a thorough success, and it is to be hoped it will be repeated.
